

Mounting for the extension of an existing partition

Whether you want to add a privacy or hygiene screen to an existing partition, this practical metal mounting provides a stable solution. The mounting can be attached to existing partitions with a width of at least approx. 25 mm. Maximum width of the partition should be about 55 mm.

The clamp can be rotated on the mounting in 90 degrees, this allows the partition to be mounted both longitudinally and to separate between two walls. So you can freely choose the extension according to your needs.

The contact surfaces are provided with a protective rubber coating, which protects the elements to be attached from scratches or damage.
